The 2020 Census Matters to Washington Communities and Nonprofits

The federal government is preparing for the 2020 Census. Unfortunately obstacles such as previous funding shortfalls, planned reliance on online responses, insufficient testing, and a proposed citizenship question may compromise a successful count. With nearly $14 billion at stake for communities across Washington State, nonprofit organizations are calling on Congress to do what it takes to ensure an accurate count in 2020.

Dear

The U.S. Census matters because:

Therefore, an accurate census count in 2020 is critical. Please support full funding for the census and the omission of the proposed citizenship question. This will ensure that Washington's communities get their fair share of federal resources and that nonprofits can effectively serve their constituents.

Sincerely,
